Rev. T. D. W. Talmage will lecture in Owensboro, Dec. 14.

GRAND Master Workman, T. V. Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, has re-signed.

The game of foot ball seemed to be the great fad in many leading cities last Thanksgiving.

President Cleveland has been invited to be present at the next annual dinner of the Louisville Commercial Club.

JUDGE Samuel E. Delhaven died at his home in Lagrange, Ky., last week. He was one of the ablest and best known jurists in the state.

This annual report of Postmaster General Bissell notes a marked improvement in the general efficiency of the postal service the past year.

Prov. John R. Proctor, for many years Kentucky's best geologist, has been appointed a member of the Civil Service Commission by President Cleveland.

LETTERS from all parts have been sent to Secretary Carlisle for copies of his speech on the silver question delivered before the New York Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. A. C. Tompkins, the Representative from Owensboro, favors an amendment to the Constitution, which will allow the convicts to be worked on the public roads of the state.

Trust is nothing, starting in the President's message. It is a plain, pitiful, conservative document, just such as Mr. Cleveland always sends. Just get it and read it and digest it at your leisure.

No agreement can be reached between the Board of Directors of the World's Fair and the Southern Park Commissioners as to what shall be done with the World's Fair buildings in Jackson Park, Chicago.

In the Democratic Congress, which is now in session, will take a little sound advice from Grover Cleveland and John G. Carlisle, they will experience no trouble in taking the kinks out of this financial muddle.

Col. E. Polk Johnson, editor of the Franklin Capital and Public Printer of Kentucky, has just received a position as Treasury Agent for the government with headquarters at Chicago. The Colonel is a capable, good man, and having been honored with the good things of this land he has made very high and lucrative position tendered him by Uncle Sam will create no surprise among his numerous friends in Kentucky.

The Democratic County Committee, which meets at Hardinsburg the third Monday in the month, will doubtless call a meeting of the people with numerous candidates in the field and an early primary will be best, not only for the party, but for all concerned. Whoever is the choice for any of the offices will want to know it, and the sooner the better. So, too, with those who are not chosen. They will wish to go at something else and not be burdened with a long canvass.

The Perry County Farmers Institute will convene at Rome next Friday, the 8th inst., and hold two days. At these meetings important subjects, of live interest, will be discussed, and thoroughly discussed, by men of practical experience, and they should be attended by every farmer in Perry and Breckenridge counties. The program (published in last week's News) is particularly interesting and it will be carried out to the letter. Valuable information may be obtained on all kinds of soils, and the kinds of crops best adapted to them; profits in fruits, stock, poultry, etc.; farm machinery; good roads; selection and preparation of seeds; draining; fertilizers; education of farmers; boys; necessity of organization among farmers, etc. When a farmer, or any one else, once attends these meetings, he will no doubt again, and the Rome session will no doubt be largely successful.

$100 Reward, 100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only known cure to the medical fraternity. Cataract is a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by repairing the constitution and giving a starting point to its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Mr. Levering was the attacking party and received a fine of $25 and the cost, and put under a bond of $500 to keep the peace for one year. Mr. Hughes was fined $10.

Death of Weller Haynes.

Weller Haynes, died suddenly in Louisville last Sunday night from the effects of a surgical operation.

His death was a great surprise to his friends and relatives here and at Hawesville, as none of them knew that he had been ill.

He had been ill for some time and was unable to get along.

Weller Haynes was an estimable young man, a prominent Hancey county family, and was individually wealthy.

He was admired and loved by all who knew him and he made lasting friends wherever he went.

He was as gentle loving as a child and always had a smile on his face for his friends.

His heart was full of the milk of human kindness, and he has given more peace to many poor and needy than many men have made.

His place will be filled in the hearts of his family and friends.

He remains passed down on the Texas train Monday night and were deposited in his last resting place at Hawesville yesterday.

For your back aches.

MERRY
— AS A — GRIG !

CHRISTMAS

Though the Summer-time is past, and the jolly little Crickets no longer chirp their merry songs, there is something merrier still to replace the sound of mirth, for now the children are singing :

“Santa Claus is coming, Santa Cluas is Almost Here!”

Yes indeed, old Santa is almost here, and in advance of his coming, to save the hard work he would have to do if he waited till the Stockings were all hung up by the fireside, he has sent a big lot of his intended Gifts ahead by “Reindeer Express,” and they are on view at SULZER'S.

HEAR THE CHILDREN LAUGH !

Doesn't it make you feel young again ? Father, with the gray showing in your hair and beard, you look like Santa ! Are you going to carry the resemblance still farther ? You know what we mean Come in and see us ! Let us whisper, oh, so carefully and mysteriously ! We mustn't let the children catch us at it, for the World ! Drop into our store, as if by accident, you know !

What are the SWEET Chimes saying ?

Listen ! you can almost Hear the words !

Yes, you have caught the Real Meaning !

He needs Spectacles and so we keep them.
His throat should be protected
with one of our Mufflers, and he would thank you for one of our Canes.

And Loving Grand Ma,

A pretty Muslin and Milk Set would delight her, or a Nice
Picture, neatly framed.
Then there are Veils,
Breast-Pins, Dresses, Slippers, and many other things she would appreciate.

And when we gather about the Board and Render Thanks to Him who gave us Christmas, not one of the Family is Omitted from the List, and when the Little Ones come bounding in and asks :

GREENING!

What Did You Get in Your Stocking?

You can reply: "I got your Happiness!"

Could there be a Better Gift?

Could there be a Better Place to Buy your Christmas

Goods than

All These Things and More

Can be found, to make this Christmas a memorable one, in quality, value, price, assortment

The Globe—Democrat Free.

Any reader of this paper can get the St. Louis Globe—Democrat free. Read the offer, on another page, and take advantage of it at once. The Weekly Globe—Democrat is now issued in semi-weekly sets, each page each Friday and Saturday. It costs 25¢ a week, making it practically a Sequoia—Weekly paper yet the price remains only one dollar a year. In politics it is strictly Republican, but it gives all the news, and is absolutely indispensable to the farmer, merchant, or professional man who has not the time to be a newspaper reader, yet desires to keep posted. Unsuspectingly posted. Sample Copies will be sent free on application to Globe Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU RAVES OVER

OVER A GOWN.

Something to Make Young Ladies' Kisses Despair—More Velvet For Costumes. Latest in Women's—The Climax in Head Gear—Fashions in Furs.

Copyright, 1893, by American Press Association.

For women who are active and quick of motion and sprightly in manner a loose tea gown is an agony and a misery, for a loose gown requires slow and measured movements, otherwise it will sweep about the form in the most awkward and ungainly manner. I have devised of such ladies there has been devised a new departure, and now the lady who needs such a model can have her tea gown as she likes and not be worse than out of the world—out of fashion.

One just finished yesterday for a young lady, a matronly lady. It was made princesses, with a short train in the back, which was cut so that the back breaths fell very full in natural folds. It was of satin, tuches, brocade, grass green, with queer, large figures in olive green. There were four rows of olive green satin ribbons sewn flat around the skirt—two high up and two near the bottom. The sleeves were of satin, too. The sleeves were of a cap-like shape, with a wide cuff at the elbow. Above the sleeves were caps of lace. Across the bust was drawn a cap of pink lace, to a point in front, and was held with a bow. The lace was joined with long ends. This was a cap to a blouse, and the blouse and the floating ribbon gives the needed touch, and behold! a model tea gown! What a relief to a young lady, whose young lady's rivals can sit about or stand in grace and in brilliant attire, to have a tea gown, and yet be in a crowd of attired graces.

The day of plain skirts seems to be on the wane, for the determined efforts of some to design to introduce drapery, or at least something like it, is beginning to show.

We find skirts cut in slashes, in points and scallops over an underskirt of some contrasting color, or, at least, some contrasting material. The front of the skirt is of velvet and the back of silk, and the blouse with long ends. This is a cap to a blouse, and the blouse and the floating ribbon gives the needed touch, and behold! a model tea gown!

The Louisville tobacco market does not show much activity either in prices or sales. The offerings are not large, especially of dark tobacco while a good percentage of the sales are rejected. There were 2,000 lbs. of Breckinridge cigarettes that were sold at $4.45 to $5.75 and 2,000 lbs. of dark leaf at $7 to $8.00.

We regret to say that E. P. Mosely, our prominent miller, who went home three weeks ago, on the account of ill health, is no better.

James Whitworth was in town last week representing the Bay Tobacco warehouse, of Louisville, Ky. We wish him success in his new occupation.

Mrs. J. C. Claycomb and daughter

Miss Addie, were in town last week having some dress-making done. Madam Rumor says this dress is for a special occasion.

John J. Bryan of Meade county, a very enterprising Blufford democrat, was in town last week lamenting over the results of the late election. Jim says he prefers brains and morals to boddle and bosom.

It is a fact that the result of the late election has developed many candidates for the various county offices to be filled next year. It seems that Hardinsburg would be well represented of them. Be careful when you make a choice in this section of country, a Hardinsburg man don't seem to be in it much.

Never before in the history of this place has the flouring mill reaped such a harvest as it has in the last three months. Big, little, old and young, male and female can be seen coming from every direction with a little more "turn" to a four horse load. Jim says they all take and send them on their way rejoicing.

THE NEW REVENUE BILL.

Will Inspire the Democratic Party
All Over the Country With New Hope and New Devotion.

A BOLD, SOUND MEASURE OF RE- FORM.

[Louisville Post]

What do these people want who cry out for more money? Money is not their want; but price for their corn and cattle, whether wheat or oats, is their want. They may not be hedge in the cask in vain; for no people ever yet grew rich by politics, but it is Peace, Industry, and high prices, that will bring wealth, and nothing else.

Yesterday afternoon The Evening Post gave a full synopsis of the revenue bill, with the explanation by Mr. Wilson of the principles which have guided the committee.

The belief of the members of the committee is that it should stand. Two hundred years ago Dudley North, that peace, industry and freedom bring trade and wealth, and that no benefit comes from obstructions to commerce, exactions, taxation and penalties.

The first article of the bill is in the substitution of a tax according to values, instead of a specific tax, imports regardless of the cost.

The specific duty was a device for con- cealing from the victim the extent of his suffering.

It taxed the articles used by the poor vastly more in proportion to their value than the articles demanded by the rich.

It is a tax on steel, on steel rails of $25, which remained at that figure long after the price had fallen from $150 to $50.

By a specific tax the tax does not decline as the price declines but it is inflexible.

Under the new system the tax on steel rails will be 25 per cent of the value, while the tax on steel rails will be $15 or $17 or $18, but $15 or $16 or $17 a ton.

This principle is adhered to with consistency through the whole bill, and of itself relieves the industries of the country from an immense burden.

The committee then proceeds to enlarge the free list, removing the duties of the articles which lie at the base of all our great industries; e. g., ore, wool and wool, agricultural implements, etc., etc., etc.

Here is another step forward. Not for a generation have the people of the United States had such promises of freedom as these. The boldness, the wisdom, the far-sightedness manifested by the committee will inspire the Democratic party all over the country with new hope and new devotion.

At last the promises of relief are to become living realities, and the platform of the party is to be interpreted by an act of Congress.

It is the first article of the free list, the whole iron schedule, is to contain the extorted and extravagant duties imposed to prohibit imports are reduced to a reasonable basis.

Free wool brings in its train greatly reduced duties on clothing, bedding, carpets and all the products of wool; 40 per cent as against an average under the McKinley act.

And so, throughout the whole bill, the aim is to lessen the necessities of life to the poor, to multiply for all men the comfort of living, to reduce the difficulties in the path of the industrious. The sugar tax is reduced one-half; the tax on eggs, vegetables, and other food products is abolished.

Then, thoroughly the bill is examined the more satisfactory will appear. There is no attempt to abolish, at one time the whole system of protection. The fact is recognized that the law has built up many foolish habits, has held up industries, and the aggregation of such influences will be so powerful that it will tax the power of King Caucus to hold the majority to the work of passing the bill.

The indications point to a stormy season at Washington during the pending of the tariff bill, and serious breaches of party discipline are to be expected before the bill is finally finished.

We shall have more to say on this subject hereafter, and from time to time point out what we regard as the most dangerous features of the measure.

Domestic industries and National prosperity have never experienced so serious an assault as that to the danger to them that it may be availed will be the wish of every intelligent person who has made a study of industrial questions.

Democratic Revenue-Raising, Common-Sense Proposing, Common-Sense

Sense.

The Wilson bill may be defined as a diagonal cut between the Morrison horizontal and the McKinley perpendicular. It bears lighter upon the necessities and heavier upon the luxuries of life, without anywhere reaching the prohibitive heights or the hurtful depths it is a Democratic revenue-raising, protective, common-sense and constitutional system of American taxation, and for that very reason will last far beyond the favor of the more favored classes. The thing to put into the hands of the Democratic Congress to do is to put it through in short order, so that all interests may be adjusted to its beneficent conditions before there is another opportunity for the rascals to stampede the people.

It is a bold, sound, comprehensive measure of reform; it is a people's bill, drawn in the interest of the masses, drawn to reduce taxation and increase the revenue. It is Democratic throughout, and will command itself everywhere to popular support. It is a notable report, and puts on the statute books the verdict rendered by the people at the polls.

THE NEW TARIFF IS A RE-PUBLICAN STANDPOINT.

The Most Radical Revenue Measure
Ever Attempted In An American Congress.

Its Passage Will Be Calamitous to The Country.

[Cincinnati Tribune]

We have read Prof. Wilson's tariff bill. The most sound a sound protectionist document from one end to the other. There is nothing in it, and no Democracy. If McKinley's bill is passed, it might differ with its details, but its principle will warn his honest old heart. And it is the work of so-called Democrats and tariff reformers!

To what use we may return, HORATIO, KIRK, and M. KIRK, and to return to day, Our young friends had planned to run off, a hard bad been engaged to convey them from Mauckport to Corydon, Ind., where the marriage, ceremony was to be performed. But as Burns says, "I am the best laid schemes of mice and men, gang all to go." The old folks got into a fit of consternation, taken and planned on them to delay their healing course and marry home. It will be remembered that Miss Bette Bechtel was living with her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan. Mrs. Morgan's new residence of handsome appearance was just completed in time for the wedding. But the amusing part of the affair is that the best laid schemes of mice and men, gang all to go.

The contracting parties were Haynes and Mrs. Morgan.

Our young friends had planned to run off, a hard bad been engaged to convey them from Mauckport to Corydon, Ind., where the marriage, ceremony was to be performed. But as Burns says, "I am the best laid schemes of mice and men, gang all to go."

The old folks got into a fit of consternation, taken and planned on them to delay their healing course and marry home.

It will be remembered that Miss Bette Bechtel was living with her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan. Mrs. Morgan's new residence of handsome appearance was just completed in time for the wed-

That Old Bible.
Two birds was sedatin' 'bout the Bible, and a ver' good sedatin' too, until they made a noise; then the noise, but one, said: "Here's the good old Bible," an', praise God it kinner calmed their fears!

It kinner settled all disputes—it made 'em see the right!

An' when we brought the gospel down, good news, we found out 'twas sight!

For, I tell you, all the talkin' like the rubbin' of a rill,

An' the word of God is walkin', an', it's gittin' next you still!

A feller may round 'em, but his journey's kinner be a kinner, and a kinner, and a kinner.

For, no matter where he wanders, he must still come home again!

You may try to run away, but you must make the texts come to you, and you must meet it face to face!

Items of Interest From All Over The State.

My wife had been helpless with rheumatism for several weeks and confined to her bed. In less than one week after using the Electropoise she was able to get up and go about the house.

J. H. Haynes, Owensboro, Ky.

Since using the Electropoise I feel at least 20 years younger.

G. W. Flint, Skylight, Ky.

I believe the Electropoise to be the greatest invention of the age. Miss Matie McElroy, Greenville, Ky.

It is a perfect aid in the perfect satisfaction in both cases, one securing the other the rheumatism, and the results have been perfectly wonderful. Richard J. Whelan, Bardstown, Ky.

Thanks to the Electropoise for what it has done for me and my family. It has cured indigestion and liver troubles, gives almost immediate relief for toothache. W. E. Willett, Carrollton, Ky.

I have used the Electropoise in my family from my mother-in-law 73 years old down to the baby one year old with the happiest results in all cases. Several of my neighbors have them and all well pleased with them. Everybody should have one. F. M. Callahan, Vicksburg, Ky.

To me the work of the Electropoise is a mystery—almost a miracle. Bert J. Roden, Danville, Ky.

The Electropoise has cured me of asthma and kidney trouble. I. Yocom, Taylorsville, Ky.

I am very much pleased with the Electropoise and would not be without it for any consideration.

Should the Republicans in Congress take the majority at its word and give the tariff bill unobstructed right of way to a speedy passage we shall confidently expect that the bill will be introduced, not only in Congress, but among the Democratic leaders all over this country.

Should the bill, as reported, become a law, the result will certainly be a large increase in imports of those commodities which we can and do produce economically in this country. That of course will be a great benefit to our country and our domestic products, which means a decrease in the demand for labor, which means a decrease in the price of labor, with all its attendant hardships and privations.

These facts are well known to members of Congress, each one of whom will find that the bill attacks an industry in which he is interested, and the aggregation of such influences will be so powerful that it will tax the power of King Caucus to hold the majority to the work of passing the bill.

The indications point to a stormy season at Washington during the pending of the tariff bill, and serious breaches of party discipline are to be expected before the bill is finally finished.

We shall have more to say on this subject hereafter, and from time to time point out what we regard as the most dangerous features of the measure.

Domestic industries and National prosperity have never experienced so serious an assault as that to the danger to them that it may be availed will be the wish of every intelligent person who has made a study of industrial questions.
